Why HSBC Arbitrage Fund?

- Investment predominantly in arbitrage opportunities in the cash and derivatives segments of the equity markets; and debt and money market instruments
- Aim to provide reasonable liquidity and risk adjusted performance to suit the investor's requirements
- Maintains optimum allocation across arbitrage instruments
- Aims to generate opportunity of reasonable returns over short to medium term

Market Actions & Overview

- The average roll spreads captured this month was 9.14% annualized. Allocation towards hedged equities is at 75.5 with tilt towards midcap. No duration or credit risk is taken on the debt side and that will pull down the final returns a bit.
- March expiry started with rollover levels at 66-67 bps at lower volumes leading to levels falling to 64-65 bps. The rollover week started with short roller interest at 70-72 levels again at lower volumes and expanded to up to 74-76 levels for some stock participation levels. On expiry day, since there was no visible improvement in roll levels or volumes, rolls traded in a range of 68-70 bps with certain stocks hitting lower at 62-64 bps. Roll levels were also affected by regulator issuing circular for change in expiry day and subsequently deferring the same.
- The NSE NIFTY gained 6.6% in March 2025 (MTD) – after declining by 5.9% in February 2025.
- This month, FIIs have turned net buyers of equities, purchasing to the tune of $1.3 bn. Previous month FIIs sold $5.3 bn in the cash.
- AUM of Arbitrage Funds decreased compared to previous expiry (Rs 2,41,718 crs vs Rs 2,45,841 crs). This month average roll basis was higher than previous expiry, 70 bps vs 54 bps previous month.

Market Movements

- Markets rebounded sharply, especially from the second half of the month as FIIs pumped in funds since last month.
- Headline CPI inflation fell to a seven-month low of 3.61% YoY in February (Consensus: 3.98%; Prior: 4.26%), primarily driven by continued sequential easing in food prices. Sequentially, CPI declined for the fourth consecutive month (-0.5% MoM vs -1% prior).
- The RBI had projected CPI inflation for FY 2024-25 at 4.8%, with the January-March quarter (Q4FY25) estimate at 4.4%. However, with inflation falling below 4%, analysts suggest that the central bank may consider further easing its monetary stance to support economic growth.
- The RBI's next bi-monthly policy meeting in April 2025 will be closely watched. With the dollar index coming down and FII flows coming backs, the positive sentiment is likely to persist going into the next month. Rate cut could also act as a catalyst driving up the momentum.

Global Markets

- Global equity markets around the world have been mixed this month.
- In the US, the FOMC unanimously voted to hold interest rates steady at 4.5% for a second straight meeting, following three consecutive rate reductions that began last September. Officials said they still see another half percentage point of rate cuts through 2025.
- CPI came in at 0.2% in February 2025, (slightly below expectations). On an annual basis, headline inflation was at 2.8%. The print provided some relief as consumers and businesses worry about the looming impact tariffs might have on inflation.
- In the UK, the BOE left interest rates unchanged, keeping the central bank's benchmark rate at 4.5%. The decision had been widely anticipated by markets
- In the US, all the three major indices are trading negative this month (MTD) - with NASDAQ having decreased the most, by 4.8%.
- US10YR was slightly higher as compared to the previous month 4.3% Vs 4.2 (February 2025).
- US Dollar Index decreased from 107.6 in February 2025 to 104.3.
- Crude price remained in line since last month: ($73.2/bbl)
